

Organized Scenarios

ORGANIZED

UNORGANIZED

Reset

Student Scenarios

Organized/
Unorganized

Instructions

Close X

Eight scenarios involving organized and unorganized students are provided.

Find out which students are good critical thinkers by finding the organized thinkers.

Drag the word that best describes the student to the designated area in the KWL chart variation.

Sarah notebo

Justin his bac

Cindy

Nathan to bed

Kevin
it befo

Rachel daydreams during class and gets the homework assignment from a friend.

Alex uses cue cards to study for a test.

Rebecca writes her assignments down in her datebook but never looks at it.

(label)

(label)

(label)

Organized Scenarios

ORGANIZED

UNORGANIZED

Reset

Student Scenarios

Organized/Unorganized

Sarah writes down her homework in her school notebook every day.

ORGANIZED

Justin throws his homework assignments into his bag at the end of the day.

UNORGANIZED

Cindy keeps track of due dates on a calendar.

(label)

Nathan finishes his homework before he goes to bed every night.

(label)

Kevin works on his science project late to finish it before its due the next day.

(label)

Rachel daydreams during class and gets the homework assignment from a friend.

(label)

Alex uses cue cards to study for a test.

(label)

Rebecca writes her assignments down in her datebook but never looks at it.

(label)

Organized Scenarios

WELL DONE!

Reset

Student Scenarios	Organized/ Unorganized
Sarah writes down her homework in her school notebook every day.	ORGANIZED
Justin throws his homework assignments into his bag at the end of the day.	UNORGANIZED
Cindy keeps track of due dates on a calendar.	ORGANIZED
Nathan finishes his homework before he goes to bed every night.	ORGANIZED
Kevin works on his science project late to finish it before its due the next day.	UNORGANIZED
Rachel daydreams during class and gets the homework assignment from a friend.	UNORGANIZED
Alex uses cue cards to study for a test.	ORGANIZED
Rebecca writes her assignments down in her datebook but never looks at it.	UNORGANIZED