Outcomes

World War One fighting stopped in November 1918 after an armistice was signed in France. The fighting ended on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month in 1918. Six months later, an official peace treaty was signed. It was called the Treaty of Versailles. The treaty was signed at the Paris Peace Conference.

The Treaty of Versailles had many details in it. One important part in the treaty stated that Germany was responsible for starting the war. Germany also had to pay a lot of money to different countries. Germany signed the Treaty, but many people in Germany were upset. They did not want to be blamed for the war.

Major Outcomes of the Treaty of Versailles

- Germany gave some of its land to surrounding countries
- Germany gave up all of its colonies in Africa
- Germany was only allowed to have a small military

Many soldiers fought in World War One because they believed it was the right thing to do. Can you think of a cause that you would be willing to fight for? What are some causes that you feel strongly about?

In 1920, the Allies created an organization called the League of Nations. Its headquarters were in Geneva, Switzerland. The purpose of the group was to promote peace. The idea first came from President Woodrow Wilson in 1918. Many countries joined the League but the United States did not. The League had many good intentions but it accomplished very little. By 1946 the League of Nations no longer existed. The United Nations, now headquartered in New York City, is largely seen as the "new" League of Nations.

World War One had considerable casualties. Close to 10 million people died and over 20 million people were injured. Several countries in Europe collapsed because of the cost of war. Governments changed as did some of the borders.

Many countries were devastated after the war. Land was ripped apart and buildings were destroyed. A lot of money had been spent on the military and many countries were poor. The United States assisted the Allies in the war and helped create the League of Nations. As a result, the United States became a strong world power. The United States became one of the most wealthy and powerful countries in the world.
