Leadership

What a Leader Means to You

Companies, Nations and your home town all have Leaders. A person who is looked up to for guidance. But this is not the only trait they have. So much more is needed.

1. Who comes to mind as a good Leader?

2. What traits do these people have in common? What are the differences?

3. Why do you think they are good leaders?

4. Using the internet, do a search for "leadership traits" and list what you found.

As a class, share and talk about the traits of a leader that you found. What does it all mean?

Leadership

Everyone is a Leader

A leader is not someone's title. Rather, a leader is based on one's actions. Everyone is a leader, as everyone can impact someone in a good way. However, not everyone can become a great leader. But, everyone can become a better leader.

What is leadership?

- Helping others in need.
- Doing the right thing without being asked.
- Being a good role model.
- Guiding others on the right path.
- Stand up for others.

Leadership is one of the main skills you can learn. Always try to be the best person you can be. The great thing is, you have the chance to practice leadership every single day. Practice in your home, at school, in sports, and everywhere in between.

Here are 10 great quotes from great leaders.

1. "A leader is one who knows the way, goes the way, and shows the way." - John C. Maxwell
2. "If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader." - John Quincy Adams
3. "Leadership and learning are indispensable to each other." - John F. Kennedy
4. "I never thought in terms of being a leader. I thought very simply in terms of helping people." - John Hume
5. "Leaders aren't born, they are made. And they are made just like anything else, through hard work. And that's the price we'll have to pay to achieve that goal, or any goal." - Vince Lombardi
6. "Leadership is action, not position." - Donald H. McGannon
7. "A good leader inspires others with confidence." - Unknown
8. "The greatest leader is not necessarily the one who does the greatest things. (She/)He is the one that gets the people to do the greatest things." - Ronald Reagan
9. "Example is not the main thing in influencing others. It is the only thing." - Albert Schweitzer
10. "(She/)He who cannot be a good follower cannot be a good leader." - Aristotle

Leadership

Leaders in your Life

We all have leaders in our life. We all know of great leaders from the past. People we can look to guide, and give us courage. For some, leadership is easy. Or it might take a little more effort. But everyone has the ability to lead.

Leaders don't just mean someone like the president of a country. Leaders come in every area of life and work. They could be a leader of a band. A leader in their area of work. Or a leader on a construction site.

Everybody has their strengths and their weaknesses. We often take on and give up leadership roles through the day.

1. When do you often take the lead? At home, in class, what are your strengths?

2. When is it your time to follow? At home, in class, what are your weaknesses?

3. When the word "Leadership" is heard, who do you think of? Write a paragraph about why this person is a leader.

4. Could this person also be a role model? Why?

Leadership

When You Were a Leader

1. a) Circle the words that describe a good leader.

honest shy good attitude unsure talking skills bad attitude inspire others motivate liar

b) Are there any other traits you think a leader should have? List them below.

2. Write about a time in your life when you were a good leader. Was it during a project? Was it when you were on a sports team? What traits made you a good leader? Did you like being in the lead?

3. Using the internet, look up two leaders you think were good at their job. It can be someone from the past or a person you know. Write down four traits each that you think helped them be good leaders.

Bloom's Taxonomy

Bloom's Taxonomy for Reading Comprehension

The activities in this resource engage and build the full range of thinking skills that are essential for students comprehension. Based on the six levels of thinking in Bloom's Taxonomy, assignments are given that challenge students to move beyond the worksheet to understand the information through higher-order thinking. By using higher-order skills of remembering, understanding, applying, analysing, evaluating, and creating, students become active learners, drawing more meaning from the information, and applying and extending their learning in more sophisticated ways.

Our resource, therefore, is an effective tool for any Social Studies program. Whether it is used in whole or in part, or adapted to meet individual student needs, this resource provides teachers with the important questions to ask and interesting content, which promote creative and meaningful learning.
