can be tricky. It's not always easy for a group of people to work together. Each person has their own ideas. They have their own opinions. They have their own strengths and weaknesses. It can be hard to get everyone on the same page. Luckily, there are steps to follow that will help people work together.

The graphic organizer shows the steps of collaboration. In each step there's room to write information as you work through the process. Follow these steps to be sure your next collaboration project is a success.

2-Week Collaboration Project

Get into groups of 5 or 6. Work together as a team to complete a 2-week long project. Pick a topic that interests your group. It can be how movies are made. It can be the history of your favorite sports team. It can even be about how technology has changed. Have your teacher approve your topic first.

Your project should have 1 creative part. This can be a collage, a diagram or a poster. It should also have 1 written part. This can be an essay, an infographic, or a brochure. And finally, your project should have 1 presentation part. This can be a speech, a debate, or a short skit.

Week 1: Work together at the same time. Set meetings and do all the work together. Finish at least one of your creative, written, or presentation parts in week 1. What did you like about working this way? What didn't you like? How would you have liked to work together for this project?

Week 2: Work together at different times. Finish up your project by working alone for this week. Talk to your group only through emails or notes. Finish at least one of your creative, written or presentation parts in week 2. What did you like about working this way? What didn't you like? How would you have liked to work together for this project?

Follow-up: In week 1, you and your group worked together on a project at the same time. In week 2, you and your group worked together at different times. Which week did you prefer? Why? Explain your reasons below.
